Description

The IVECO Daily 35S 180HP with 12m³ van body is a practical and efficient transport solution designed for businesses that need strong carrying capacity with the convenience of easy driving. A key advantage of this vehicle is that it can be driven on a standard car licence, as it operates with a GVM of 3,800 kg, making it ideal for businesses that want truck capability without requiring drivers to hold a heavy vehicle licence. This makes it perfectly suited for courier services, last-mile delivery, trades, and general freight operations. Powered by a 3.0L turbo diesel engine producing 180HP, the IVECO Daily delivers strong performance, reliability, and excellent fuel efficiency for everyday commercial use. The vehicle features a 12m³ cargo body with internal cargo dimensions of 3540mm (L) x 1740mm (W) x 1900mm (H), providing generous space for transporting parcels, equipment, tools, or furniture. With an approximate payload of around 1.5 tonnes, the vehicle allows businesses to carry substantial loads while maintaining efficiency and manoeuvrability in urban environments. The GCM of 7,300 kg also provides the ability to tow additional loads when required, adding flexibility for different transport applications. Built with IVECO's strong ladder frame chassis, the Daily 35S offers durability and strength beyond typical vans, ensuring long-term reliability in demanding commercial use. Combining power, payload capacity, and car-licence accessibility, the IVECO Daily 35S 180HP with 12m³ body is an excellent solution for businesses looking for a dependable and versatile delivery vehicle.
